Nina Allan – A Son of the Rock -- Jack Deighton

Recommended by an author in a Guardian article if I remember correctly, and annoyingly the Barbican Library only has the third and final part of this trilogy on its bookshelves... so I bought all three via AbeBooks after I'd sat and read the opening chapter in a second hand bookshop on a visit to Sue in Edinburgh aeons ago.

A young Englishwoman, Diana Carstairs, goes out to the Central American police state of Costa Negra to reclaim her inheritance, only to be arrested on trumped-up charges of drug smuggling. Sentenced to years of harsh imprisonment, she is acquired as an indentured servant by the man she had sought to supplant, the harsh owner of the remote plantation. Her owner is a keen breeder and trainer of two and four legged ponies and Diana finds herself being put through her paces!

Allan Aldiss has written many stories about life in make-believe harems. However, this one is different. It is about life in a real harem: the harem of Abdul the Dammed, almost the last of the Sultans of Turkey, who about a hundred years ago was the all-powerful Ruler of the still vast Ottoman Empire.

Discusses erotic lesbian domination with male assistance.

Another book in the popular Barbary series. This one has a contemporary setting. A number of young women are kidnapped on the instructions of a handsome and wealthy young Sheik.

Suki is a genalt - an artificial girl, impossibly beautiful, created to order. Legally she is simply property, without rights, utterly at the mercy of her owner. And he has no mercy. He had her made to rebel against being told what to do, and to loathe sex with men. She is the perfect suffering toy for a cruel sadist. Her owner relishes her screams and her tears as he breaks her spirit with punishment, forcing her to beg him to have her. Suki manages to escape this hell, but the world outside is no better. She falls into the hand of criminals whose skill at inflicting pain far exceeds that of her original owner. Sold on the black market, she passes from one owner to another. And there are other forces out in the world with yet more sinister plans for her.

In a brilliant reimagining of Bram Stoker's horror classic, an inventor travels back in time to save humankind from a nightmarish enslavement by vampires Joe Bodenland has figured out how to manipulate time—a discovery that leads him to Utah and an impossible sixty-five-million-year-old human gravesite. It is here that he learns of the existence of a monstrous race of intelligent predators as old as the dinosaur, and of the remarkable “train” the undead creatures use to travel back and forth from a Paleolithic past to a monstrous far future in which Homo sapiens are enslaved cattle. With the fate of all humanity at stake, Joe commandeers the ghostly transportation and rides it back to Victorian England, where he enlists the aid of a powerful ally, the author Bram Stoker, in the battle to secure Earth. But to prevent the coming apocalyptic nightmare, they must first confront and destroy the most cunning and deadly being the world has ever known: Lord Dracula, the immortal vampire. The recipient of numerous awards and honors, including multiple Hugo and Nebula Awards and the Prix Jules Verne, Grand Master Brian W. Aldiss puts a bold new science fiction spin on Bram Stoker's classic tale of vampiric horror. An ingenious reinvention of the Nosferatu myth, Dracula Unbound is a breakneck thrill ride from one of the most revered names in science fiction and fantasy.

This is the story of a young Englishwoman, Diana Carstairs, who goes out to the Central American police state of Costa Negra to reclaim her inheritance only to be arrested on trumped-up charges of drug smuggling. Sentenced to years of harsh imprisonment, she is acquired as an indentured servant, a virtual slave, by the man she had sought to supplant, the harsh owner of the remote plantation. In this stand-alone sequel her troubles become worse as she is treated as a brood mare and subjected to forced breeding.
