What started as a hobby for Robert H. Correll, turned into a three-generation family business. In 1975, Robert V. Correll took what his father started and perfected it, creating the family business - Correll Cider Presses® - as is today. Having built over 4,250 presses, this proud legacy continues with his son Dan and Dan's wife Jill.

Correll Cider Presses

Your basic, entry-level apple grinder is a hand-crank grinder, often affixed to a basket press. These are typically made of steel or cast iron and consist of a collecting area (hopper), a crank, and a rotating cylinder with embedded teeth which grinds up the apples as they are fed into the hopper.
