The French have always been good at building comfortable cars, and the C5 is no exception. It's also spacious and comes with great diesel engines. However, Citroens are built down to a price; its cars may be cheap to buy, but C5 owners are often on intimate terms with their dealer's workshop. The car has no charisma either, although at least the facelifted car isn't as ugly as its predecessor.

Drastic reduction of carbon emissions is vital if we are to avoid a catastrophe that devastates large parts of the world. Governments and businesses have been slow to act - individuals need to take the lead now if we are to avoid climate chaos. Each Westener is responsible for an average 10 - 20 tonnes of carbon emissions each year (depending on where you live). In How to Live a Low-Carbon Life, Chris Goodall shows how easy it is to take responsibility, providing a comprehensive, one-stop reference guide to calculating your CO2 emissions and reducing them to a more sustainable 2 tonnes a year. This fully revised and expanded new edition takes into account new government targets on emissions reductions and includes up-to-date calculations and extensive graphics clearly laying out the path to a low-carbon life.
