There are many ways to the top of the mountain. They all pass through the same place: a monastery filled with monks who have given up on their chance to attain what their hearts have made them want. It is the ego that wants. It is the ego that wants to reach the top of the mountain. It is the ego that drives us to the betterment that eventually leads us to God. In this monastery there are monks losing perspective as some sort of dogma. The view is of all that surrounds. Some in the monastery watch their breath while others have seen the view and are now in towns at pubs enjoying the blessings of life. They are attached and growing. The roots of the plant along the path are attached and that is what nourishes the whole of the organism. Nothing grows on the top of the mountain. Volumes of experience have made their way from pub to paper, like the traveler is a pen and the pages of this story are a mountain.
