The first in a series of four books from the cutting-edge Tokyo design studio La ZOO, Let's Color! was created with the very youngest artist in mind. Perfect for initiating a lifelong appreciation for art, the book lets children know that they can color anyway and with any color they choose, and reinforces the idea that going outside the lines can be fine.

Color Farm Board Book is full of colors, shapes, and animals. The author expressed different ways shapes and colors can combine to creatively make animals. It is a visually engaging book where readers are asked to visualize their own animals and use their imagination.

Shapes and colors in your zoo, lots of things that you can do. Heads and ears, beaks and snouts, that's what animals are all about. I know animals and you do too; make some new ones for your zoo.

Introduces colors and shapes with illustrations of shapes on die-cut pages that form animal faces when placed on top of one another.

"Baby Zoo" is a book for children of various development stages, from "just-starting to speak" toddlers to avid readers that follows the story of an accident with paint at the zoo with baby animals. The painter then figures out a simple solution to get all animals clean and save the day. Your child will learn the name of each animal, colors, numbers, shapes, emotions and other important concepts. Throughout this tale your child will have plenty of opportunity to exercise with word pronunciation, color definition, memory, emotion recognition, counting, rhyme repetition and even shape recognition. The book even includes suggestions from the author on how to practice these concepts with your child. Written by Margaryta Kuzmin who is a bilingual speech language pathologist as well as a mom of two.

A mother and child plant a rainbow of flowers in the family garden.

Describes the ways animals use color as camouflage, warn predators they're poisonous, and communicate with friends and enemies. Some animals change colors when they get hot or cold, or when they are scared, while others change color as they age. Features two-page spreads of animals from each color of the rainbow and animals in multiple color combinations.

Short, easy to read rhymes reveal what is unique about various animals, from ape to wolf.

Describes some of the many things in the natural world, such as worms, seashells, flowers, and stars, that a child can appreciate, illustrated in silhouette.

A large, spotted animal discovers he really belongs in a circus, not a zoo. On board pages.

While at the zoo Pat the Bunny pets the animals, from a wrinkly elephant to a feathery parrot. On board pages.

Caldecott Honor artist Lois Ehlert invokes birds and beasts from all walks of the animal kingdom in this collection of fun, clever, and witty poems. Beautifully illustrated in Lois's signature bold and bright collage style, this exploration of camouflage and adornment will both illuminate and delight.
