When the sun goes down, the garden wakes up. Lainey's garden is no ordinary garden. All the animals living there, from chipmunks to chickadees, are her friends-but that's not all! All kinds of creatures come to life in this magical place, including a wise stone statue and a grumpy Scottish well. If you're lucky, you might even cross paths with Welcome the fairy! These charming stories, delightfully illustrated with the author's photographs, blend imagination and reality to create a homey yet magical world of friends. The friends have fun together, get into mischief, suffer disasters, console each other, and sometimes get annoyed. And just when you think you've met everybody, a visitor may appear through the magic gate . . .

Lainey's Magical Garden is a perfect read-aloud for children aged four and up.

Close calls, narrow escapes, or near hits. History has shown repeatedly that these "near-miss" incidents often precede loss producing events, but are largely ignored or go unreported because nothing (no injury, damage or loss) happened. Thus, many opportunities to prevent the accidents that the organization has not yet had are lost. Recognizing and revised and updated, the third edition of Learning from Accidents provides more information on accident investigation, including coverage of accidents involving liquefied gases, building collapse and other incidents that have occurred because faults were invisible (e.g. underground pipelines). By analysing accidents that have occurred Trevor Kletz shows how we can learn and thus be better able to prevent accidents happening again. Looking at a wide range of incidents, covering the process industries, nuclear industry and transportation, he analyses each accident in a practical and non-theoretical fashion and summarises each with a chain of events showing the prevention and mitigation which could have occurred at every stage. At all times Learning from Accidents, 3rd Edition emphasises cause and prevention rather than human interest or cleaning up the mess. Anyone involved in accident investigation
