This edited volume explores, investigates and analyses Free Learning – an innovative approach to student-directed learning which seeks to challenge educational norms from within. The volume is framed by a recognition of the urgent need for transformation of our educational systems. In traditional education, students work through a teacher-directed linear syllabus, at a pace dictated by the teacher, with summative assessment hurdles at too-frequent intervals.

Progression and direction are determined solely by the teacher. In Free Learning, students determine their own learning pathway through a non-linear syllabus, which can be visualised as a mind map.

Students may then complete as many units
as they either have time for, or are interested in, moving from one unit to another on the basis of having formatively satisfied the demands of each individual unit. This volume showcases the Americas. Presented in Gerston ' s characteristic, no-holds-barred style of wit and candor, Reviving Citizen Engagement: Policies to Renew National Community casts a harsh light on the current state of American public policy. It then offers approaches to healing some of the country ' s most pressing problems.

The book begins with an assessment of the extent to which America has become a fractured society and the residual damage from the social implosion. It then examines the fragile condition of the 21st century electorate and a political system where private power too often has overcome values intended to protect the succeed only if its people believe they have the opportunity to succeed.

This book not only provides evidence of our frayed society but also includes recommendations for strengthening America ' s social fabric.

It details the steps we can—and must—take to repair, rebuild, and renew American society.
