In this acclaimed memoir, Meslekia recalls his boyhood in the arid city of Jijiga, Ethiopia, and his journey to manhood during the 1970s and 1980s. He traces his personal evolution from child to soldier--forced at the age of eighteen to join a guerrilla army. And he describes the hardships that consumed Ethiopia after the fall of Emperor Haile Selassie and the rise to power of the communist junta, in whose terror thousands of Ethiopians died. Part autobiography and part social history, Notes from the Hyena's Belly offers an unforgettable portrait of Ethiopia, and of Africa, during the defining and turbulent years of the last century.

Arjan Banga is forced to leave London to help his lonely mother run Bains Stores, their family's provincial corner shop. But, it's also a return to all that he tried to leave behind: narrow worldviews and post-industrial decline--and Singhfellow, a desi pub that defines itself by a religion that officially rejects drinking. But, his mother is adamant to keep the store open, forcing Arjan to work with her, reassess his relationship with his gori fiancé and discover his family's silent history: his aunt's elopement, his mother's marriage to a lower-caste man, and his family's strange relationship with their desi neighbours, the Dhandas, whose macho heir can't stop listening to Malkit Singh and declaring: 'Am just gonna bun dis spliff.' The story of modern Britain as seen through the windows of an English shop with a big Punjabi heart, Marriage Material is the humorous chronicle of finding love as a desi in England--and of English desis forging and celebrating a betwixt identity that is neither here nor there.
