Like The Man Who Mistook His Wife for a Hat, this is a fascinating voyage into a strange and wonderful land, a provocative meditation on communication, biology, adaptation, and culture. In Seeing Voices, Oliver Sacks turns his attention to the subject of deafness, and the result is a deeply felt portrait of a minority struggling for recognition and respect--a minority with its own rich, sometimes astonishing, culture and unique visual language, an extraordinary mode of communication that tells us much about the basis of language in hearing people as well. Seeing Voices is, as Studs Terkel has written,

"an exquisite, as well as revelatory, work."

This book reveals how school memories offer not only a tool for accessing the school of the past, but also a key to understanding what people today know (or think they know) about the school of the past. It describes, in fact, how historians' work does not purely and

Online Library

Studiamo La

simply consist in exploring school as it really was, but also in the complex process of defining the memory of school as one developed and revisited over time at both the individual and collective level. Further, it investigates the extent to which what people “ know ”

Online Library

Studiamo La

reflects the reality or is in fact a product of stereotypes that are deeply rooted in common perceptions
and thus exceedingly difficult to do away with. The book includes fifteen peer-

contributions that were presented and discussed during the International

Symposium “ School
Memories. New

Research into Education: Heuristic Perspectives and Methodological Issues ” (Seville,

His book contends
that the presence of secret societies—just the occult. From the

this book exposes not also their connections

to the intelligence community and the infamous Ur-Lodges.
